The Education for Health Trainers Network

Make a difference to the care of people with cardiovascular disease. 20,000 patients at a time

Every health professional starts the day wanting to do as much as possible to improve the lives of their patients. As a Trainer your challenge is to help make this a reality. To ignite the sort of passion that gets health professionals looking differently at their patients. To inspire the sort of personalised care that really can make a difference to the lives of people with long term conditions.

Education for Health Trainers set the standard for the learning expectations of fellow health professionals undertaking modules and short courses. The impact of your professionalism, clinical knowledge and experience is hugely valuable. It creates lasting inspiration for the health professionals you will teach and ensures that they develop further the knowledge and skills to improve the care they deliver. In this way Education for Health Trainers are able to make a difference to lives of thousands of patients every year.

Education for Health Trainers

£300 per day plus expenses

As a member of our international network you will deliver multi-disciplinary teaching and facilitation of study days on our behalf. You will also have the opportunity to develop skills in assessment and marking course work. In this way you will ensure that students have an excellent supported learning experience which will inspire and enable them to improve patient care. Passionate about improving long term conditions' management, you will have the opportunity to contribute to educational development across our workshops and modules. All our trainers are also clinicians and working together we can ensure that our education and training is fully conversant with local, national and clinical issues of relevance.

Education for Health Trainers are our ambassadors, promoting and representing the Charity through membership of advisory boards, writing for publication, attending conferences and meetings on our behalf and contribute to developing innovative educational resources which provide ongoing educational support.

We are currently recruiting trainers for a range of clinical specialties including cardiovascular, respiratory and allergic disease and diabetes. The amount of time you choose to work with us is down to you.
